

PUNISH SARECKY AND COLWELL, IS ASSEMBLY VOTE

Garrison Takes Stand Before Judiciary Committee, But Refuses to Testify.

ALBANY, Aug. 28.—The Assembly today passed a resolution to punish Sarecky and Colwell for contempt; also the resolution introduced by Cuvillier to investigate by special committee the charges made by James C. Garrison regarding the bribery of four members of the Assembly on the impeachment of Gov. Sulzer. Both resolutions were passed viva voce.

After a conference with Majority Leader Wagner of the Senate to-day, Chief Judge Cullen of the Court of Appeals announced that all the Judges of his court, including the three who are not elected but designated, had been notified to appear on Sept. 18, the opening day of the trial of impeachment of Gov. Sulzer. Until that time, said Judge Cullen, there will be no decision as to whether, under the terms of the Constitution, the three designated Judges shall be a part of the High Court of Impeachment.

Late in the afternoon the leaders announced they had abandoned their idea to pass financial legislation and that the Legislature probably would adjourn tonight until Sept. 17.

"Did bribery enter into the methods used to get votes to impeach Gov. Sulzer?" was the important question before the Assembly Judiciary Committee at the Capitol to-day. At first the committee asserted that it would hold no executive session to examine James C. Garrison, who was subpoenaed by the sergeant-at-arms at 1 A. M., but Assemblymen Gibbs and Schaefer insisted that the matter was of too great importance to be heard secretly and demanded that the hearing be open to the public. After a long conference the committee decided to have the preliminary hearing at least open.

Garrison appeared and questioned the right of the committee to examine him. Majority Leader Levy read the law which empowers the committee to examine witnesses in secret. Garrison asked: "Is that all the authority?" Assemblyman Cuvillier stated that there was further authority in the criminal code.

"Well," said Garrison, "I was notified to appear here until 1 A. M., and I would like a chance to consult with counsel and to be represented by counsel when I am examined." "You want the committee to give you more time to prepare yourself?" asked Levy.

"That is it," replied Garrison. "I have grave doubts myself as to the right of the committee to examine me. I have had no official notice as to what you wanted. I have had no chance to prepare or get advice."

Chairman Goldberger asserted that the public print had been full of the matter for several days and Garrison ought to be informed.
